Our speaker for this event will be Stephanie Turner. Stephanie is the product manager for marketing with RFB&D. She will share with us a wealth of information about the services, research, and player authorization to help support those individuals with print disabilities.

Topics discussed will include:

- What's new at RFB&D?
- How do you become a member of RFB&D?
- What documentation is needed for authorization?
- How do I order books?
- Learn what a person needs to do to authorize their HumanWare players to play RFB&D books?
- Looking at the research that has been collected that support the use of audio books for students who are struggling with reading.
- Questions and Answers time
